An invitation to all Treasure Hunters

" Of dreams made in heaven, I have yearned to see a few, and only if I could be woken, to a paradise of every hue..."

Such are travelers, waiting to wake up to a dream. You could be one.

We are the Dream Weavers, who for nearly three decades have been smitten by the un-exhausting beauty of this planet, discovering every nook and corner that would spell sensuality, breathe passion, narrate history, create romance and surprise you with life that you had heard of but never felt.

In such trysts with this gorgeous and generous earth, you will find the Indian sub continent, sprinkled over its vast landmass, an unusual variety of unique and exotic places that beckoned travelers, writers defining the love of life, maybe carved on stone, or sung in the rippling rivers, or soaring into the sky as a pillar, or stretching its arms to welcome strangers in its heart as a palace, or arrogantly looking down at a city as a fort, or in paintings still pulsating with cultures of a time buried in history, or simply on the ground that seeps through your skin and propels you to sink in it, get absorbed and assimilated. A life spent to last a lifetime. A vacation to remember and inspire.

From the testament of love in the Taj Mahal, to the definition of erotica in the temples of Khajuraho, this land has captured a detailed and well-sculpted social and cultural picture of the times it has lived through. In the cave temples of Ajanta and Ellora, Konark Sun Temple, Meenakshi Temple and so many more. Each with its extra-ordinary and unique expression of a culture and art, that in due course of time has come to be masterpieces in the modern world.

With such a tremendous variety of cultures and ethnicities, the Indian sub continent has been established as treasure-hunters delight. Kashmiri carpets, rugs, silks, brocades, hand-crafted jewelry, precious and semi-precious stones, inlay marble and handicrafts. And with a little experience in shopping that can be gained in an hour, the bargains can really get you addicted to shopping. So those who wish to indulge, there may never be an end to their visit. Don't blame us; we only get you to the treasure island.

Everybody has a personal purpose to travel, but if you want to find a purpose to travel, you come to the subcontinent. Not just the land, but the people, not just the temples but the philosophy, not just the forts but the glory, not just a visit but a legacy that you are bound to pass on. With tours fabricated with taste and passion, we vow to extend your imagination.

We as professional operators have designed packages based on experience and their own zest for exploration. You are invited to join our fleet of explorers to unfurl this panorama of wonders that we promise to make you fall in love with by the time you return. And return, you will.... to India and the sub continent...

And now that I see the dream,
I wish for a day or more,
I gather all that I can steal,
But not enough to store....

Why Travel With Us

Knowledge and Experience: We have been operating Exotic Journeys series of tours since 1979. Our personalized and efficient service has helped us achieve highest level of client satisfaction. Our expertise is reflected in planning and operation of these programs. The tours in this brochure are the result of diligent planning and research to give you the most comprehensive experience at the best possible price. Because of our volume buying power, our prices provide the best value for your money.

Services: Our destinations are exotic but demanding. There are so many languages and dialects, so many traditions and customs, so many people and religions, so many festivals and holidays. Therefore, it is all the more reason to travel with a company who knows its way around. We have gathered a dedicated team of professionals to smoothen the path for travelers. They understand your needs and strive to provide the best possible personalized services for you to have a worry-free vacation in unfamiliar places. Our overseas offices and selected operators are available 24 hours a day for assistance throughout your stay on our tours. We hire only certified, experienced and knowledgeable guides with cultural and historical information. We book superior accommodation in fine hotels. Membership is limited on group tours, which enables us to provide individual attention to each member. Our aim is to help you appreciate our destinations to their fullest.

Brochure: Ours is one of the most comprehensive and easy to read brochures. The names of cities included in itineraries, duration of programs, land costs and airfares could be found at a glance. The itineraries are comprehensive, all-important sightseeing and excursions are included and there is hardly any need for optional tours. Detailed itineraries are provided when you book a tour. The programs are designed with enough leisure time for relaxation and independent activities.

Website: Please visit our website www.exoticjourneys.com frequently for additional programs, special offers and up to date tour dates and pricing.

Selection and variety: We offer a wide selection of programs - cultural, adventure, incentive and tours with special interest, ranging from five to thirty-one days covering India, Nepal, Bhutan, Sikkim, Tibet, Sri Lanka, Korea, Myanmar, Egypt and China. Our tour packages are being offered with choices of accommodation in deluxe and superior hotels wherever possible. These hotels are carefully inspected and selected for our discerning clients to provide high standards to complement our handling and services.

Guaranteed Prices and Departures: We never cancel our departures for lack of participants. Once you are confirmed and we have received full payment, the tour will operate as scheduled except for reasons beyond our control. Our prices, quoted at the time of booking, are guaranteed and do not depend on number of participants in the group.

Flexibility: If you select one of the group tours but do not like to travel with group, or the departure date does not coincide with your vacation plans, we offer the same program at the published group rates for minimum of six people traveling together. You may select your own date of travel. Also, at times you may like a tour but find it slightly longer than your requirement. We accept partial booking and would give you special cost of the portion of the tour selected. Independent or modular packages could be redesigned to your requirements.

Custom-made Personalized Tours: Although there are several itineraries in this brochure, we will still be happy to customize programs based on your requirements and budget. For those who wish to travel alone or only with friends or family, special packages could be designed.

Special Interest Groups: Over the years we have organized travel arrangements for groups of varying interests based on their subject of interest. If you are affiliated with an alumni association, a photography club, an art or a zoological society with particular interest, our special interest department can develop an exciting itinerary with focus on your interest.

Air Transportation: All major airlines travel to our destinations. The group tours are designed with Air India but you may choose your own preferred airline to travel. We will provide competitive airfares on all major carriers.
